All students must satisfy Police and Working with Children or Working with Vulnerable People Checks to undertake vocational placement.

Individual student support

We recognise that our students come from diverse backgrounds with varying educational experiences. To help us personalise the training delivery to suit individual needs, students complete an on-campus pre-training assessment prior to course commencement. This includes a friendly interview with one of our trainers where students can discuss their course desires. We also provide weekly tutorial /support sessions during the course.

Training and assessment methods

Training involves a combination of classroom learning, resource development, online learning, practical sessions, research and project work plus vocational placement in a registered education and care service. We utilise a range of assessment methods including demonstration/ direct observation of the student at vocational placement, written reports, written tests, work samples, questions and discussions, and projects. Students will need to be marked satisfactory in all assessments to successfully pass the course. Unit HLTAID004 is delivered by a specialist first aid training provider on our behalf.

Vocational placement

We arrange each student's vocational placement with one of our approved registered education and care service providers. Students are supervised by professional centre staff and complete vocational placement assessments facilitated by their trainer.
